- Over 3,000 men, women, and children are in a homeless crisis in our community right now.
- Homelessness is more than providing a job and housing. In order to solve homelessness, we need to address the true causes: trauma, mental illness, substance use disorder, lack of financial knowledge, and a lack of healthy relationships.
- The Rescue Mission does more than provide meals and shelter. It places a priority on providing access to resources and options such as job skills, spiritual development, counseling, addiction treatment, life skills, financial education, and housing assistance.
